

RESOLUTION IS FOR COOLIDGE

San Diego Republicans Out for President

Approval Action Was Taken at Regular Meeting

John D. Spreckels Favored as National Delegate

EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH
SAN DIEGO, Jan. 9.—The sentiment among Republicans in California for Calvin Coolidge as next President of the United States was plainly shown in the announcement here today that the San Diego county Republican Central Committee had endorsed him for the Republican nomination by a virtually unanimous vote. This action was taken last night at a regular meeting of the committee, all but one of the members being present. John D. Spreckels was unanimous inendorser for the national Republican convention.

The resolution endorsing President Coolidge follows:

"Whereas, Calvin Coolidge, now President of the United States, has announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for that office and

"Whereas, the private life of President Coolidge is above reproach, but has been an inspiring example of moral integrity, diligence, soundness, honesty and ability, and

"Whereas, the public life of President Coolidge has demonstrated conspicuously his wisdom, his courage, his impartiality, his energy, his devotion to the public interest and his deep unabashed loyalty to his country, he is therefore,

"Resolved, by the San Diego County Republican Central Committee, that it believes that Calvin Coolidge is the most logical candidate for the Republican Presidential nomination and pledges its unwavering support, its energies and all its resources to the advancement of his candidacy."

CLEAN-UP FOR PHILADELPHIA

comes a public scandal. Appeal would be made to the city administration which would demand action from a police department. The department in turn had to have a squad of trusted men it could send into the districts to carry out its orders.

"The 'clean-up' will be necessary. If we have to raid any place from headquarters it will mean the lieutenant of the district in which the place is located will be busted."

CUT OUT POLITICS

"Mayer Kendrick and Gen. Butler out of the head of the political octopus when they decided that politics and the police must be separated. The members of the octopus still try to wiggle. 'We'll quiet that soon and then things will run properly.'

Gen. Butler was "drafted" by Mayer Kendrick from the United States Marine Corps. Gen. Butler was commandant to undertake the task of ridding Philadelphia of lawlessness which had become flagrant.

The first action on taking office was to issue the forty-eight-hour ultimatum to police lieutenants to clean up their districts or get out.

WOOD-QUEZON FEUD DROPPED

he was gradually sacrificing support.

END OF INTRIGUE SEEN

When the Legislature undertook to draft its own budget it was not agreed, therefore Gen. Wood's budget was found to afford a common ground for compromise. The salary of the governor was twice as great as that of Gen. Wood, but because the measure was defective but because it infringed on his authority. It is now believed that this affair at a first of resolution of intrigue will be abandoned. Quezon has consistently maintained that he entertained no personal animosity toward the Governor General and the press has treated the affair in which Gen. Wood's son is involved with particular toleration.

ANNOUNCEMENT PROMISED

"There will be big developments tomorrow," was the only comment National Committeeman Kealing would make after the White House conference. Early in the day Henry Lane Wilson of Indiana, former Ambassador to Mexico, conferred with President Coolidge. There is some talk that he may be chosen Ambassador to India, but this was denied by some Indian leaders. Mr. Wilson is said to expect appointment to the American diplomatic post in Constantinople where the great negotiations between the United States and Turkey is ratified.

Dirt Bowl, January 20

BY PAUL LOWRY

Ralph De Palma, one of the greatest automobile race stars of all time, will be the kingpin of the field which goes to the opening in the grand opening promised for "Papa" George Bentel's new Ascot circuit one week from Sunday. Bentel announced yesterday that De Palma, who holds more dirt-track endurance records than probably all the rest of the drivers together, had dropped from the A.A.A. ranks and hereafter will be under the jurisdiction of the I.M.C.A.

De Palma, as the leading Italian dare-devil, has been racing dirt-track for the last few years, and he has won thirty-three dirt-track titles. In 1922 he was the first to win the Italian speed king's title in the I.M.C.A. race at Milwaukee. He grabbed the road race title again in 1924 by winning the Vanderbilt cup classic at Moersch, and finished in the first three in the Elgin Events and fourth in the Grand Prix at Santa Monica.

De Palma's statement follows: "I am not a 'future' but smart hose to wear! A fine selection of colors in soft wool and in imported wools, both and with embroidered clox. No carries — all this season's stock.

REWARD SANCTION

In 1918 he won the famous Indianapolis race in his Mercedes at an average of 89.34 miles per hour, which record stood until 1922, when Jimmie Murphy came along and increased it with 94.1 miles per hour. All told, De Palma holds some twenty-six records, which are to be found in the A.A.A. archives.

Famous Guys Who Golf

No. 1—Bill Tilden

Bill Tilden, like many other tennis champions, spends considerable time on the golf links. Big Bill once blushingly answered a few pointed questions as to how well he yields a mashie, and from the answers one may draw conclusions as to whether or not Bill's batting average would be as high as the angles and horizontals make it as is the case of the tennis champion. The best golf of Tilden's career was made $5. How many world's tennis champions can break a hundred anyway? He once drove 275 yards. The direction, however, was not so good. He chooses his second club with his eyes shut. Any tennis player can tell you that this is a bad idea. The best golf of Tilden's career was made $5. Texas Senator Files Answer With Committee

Allegations Disavowed in Specific Manner

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE
WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Sweeping denial of all the allegations of George E. B. Peddy, his opponent, were made today in an answer filed with the Senate Elections Committee by Senator Mayfield, Democrat, Texas, in the Texas Senatorial primary and election contest.

As outlined by Chairman Spener of the committee the answer specifically denied the allegations of the contestants in these terms:

"First, with regard to the election of contestant."

"Second, with regard to his expenses."

"Third, with regard to any alleged illegal conduct in the election or any illegality in the conduct of the election which deprived the contestant of having his name upon the ballot."

"Fourth, the allegations with regard to intimidation."

"Fifth, the allegations of any illegal conduct in which contestant's name was placed upon the ballot."

CHAIRMAN DESCRIBES

"Sixth, the allegations of illegal or fraudulent votes."

"Seventh, the allegations with regard to any misdeeds of voters."

"Eighth, the allegations of threatening intimidation or unlawful contribution or false returns."

Describing the answer further, Senator Spener said: "In general terms it contains the election of Mayfield's entrance into the primary campaign; his actions in regard to it and the Texas senatorial election; the result of the result of the two primary elections; the nomination of the Republican candidate, his withdrawal and the election of the contestants as the Republicans and the election of the of Texas in the matter and the litigation in Texas which resulted, as well as the litigation which was intended to prohibit the certification of contestants as the regular Democratic nominees."

SITUATION OUTLINED

"Second, the answer outlines the general situation in regard to the vote in the several counties of Texas and the general form of the ballots that were issued to the voters."

"Third, it describes the general character of the election and the conduct of the contestants."

"Fourth, it describes the personal experience of the contestants."

Finally, the answer ends with a prayer that the contest filed by Mr. Peddy be dismissed.

WANTS STATUS OF MOTOR OFFICERS DEFINITELY ESTABLISHED

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 9.—State Controller Riley has definitely decided to appeal to the Supreme Court from the decision of the Third District Court of Appeal upholding the constitutionality of the section of the Breed Motor Vehicle Tax Law under which county traffic officers are appointed by the director of the division of motor vehicles.

The information is contained in a telegram received today by Ralph W. Smith, State inheritance tax attorney, from Riley, who is in Chicago.

Acting on instructions from Riley, the Controller's office notified Will H. Marsh, director of the Motor Vehicle Department, not to issue any more motor vehicle officer's permits until the case finally is decided in order to "save further complications."

BOND QUOTATIONS

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—Today's bond market was one of the most active in several months. Total transactions also greatly exceeded those of recent days and the tone was decidedly higher.

In addition to a sizable flow of reinvestment funds into the market, traders reported an unusually large demand for American bonds of all kinds.

The market for new securities also developed new strength and bankers reported conversations about several issues that have been under negotiations.

Among the more active issues on the "big board" were those of the St. Paul Railroad, several of those being advanced 1 1/2 points and the turnover being unusually large.

Several single sales of $25,000 to $28,000 were recorded.

Other railroad bonds for which there was demand were exceptionally good market included the New Haven mortgages, one of which jumped more than 3 points; Mississauga, Toronto and Pacific and Canadian Pacific bonds, which touched a new high price.

Public utility bonds and industrial bonds generally experienced a good market, but a number of the sugar companies receded fractionally.

Unusual activity and strength were displayed by the American automobile bonds, the first and second Liberty 4 1/4% improving 8-9 of a point. Much of this buying was said to have originated in the foreign market, there being evidence also of purchases for the account of the British government traders stated.

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—Following are the closing quotations on the New York Stock Exchange, furnished by A. P. Night Wires:

BANDIT SUSPECT CAPTURES GROW

Increase Five Times During Past Four Months

Vollmer Attributes Record to Crime Crushers

Public Support and Better Courts Credited

More than five times as many arrests for robbery were made in Los Angeles in the past four months as were made in the corresponding months a year ago, according to figures compiled by the police record bureau and supplied by Chief Vollmer yesterday. They show 355 arrests for grand larceny, 1,000 for automobile theft, 255 for arrests for burglary and 215 for robbery. Only thirty-four robbery suspects were taken by the police the last four months of 1922.

"The Chief attributed much of the decrease in the number of arrests in Los Angeles to the fact that the underworld circles know that Los Angeles is 'tough town'."

The Chief attributed much of the decrease in the number of arrests to the crime crushers. The "invisible division," the Chief believes, is a powerful psychological factor in preventing crime.

Chief Vollmer declared the morale of the department has improved; that there is now unity of action between division that pride in their work and that the morale of citizens has increased the respect of the officers, and that the courts and District Attorney's office are co-operating by speeding up justice and that punishment more swift and certain.

"We have fifty new sawed-off shotguns at Central Station, and men have been issued them," he said. "The way to make the world safe for the law-abiding is to provide graves for habitual criminals."

Five Caught by Police Accused as Hold-up Men

One of the police motorcycle patrols participating in the drive on automobile thieves, yesterday brought in five men arrested near the Wilshire Country Club in a car believed to be stolen. Patrolmen Bandie, Shellman and Hahn reported that they took from the car of one of the three who have been identified as those who held up the Lee Lunchroom at Sixth and Main streets on the 4th instant.

Acting Assistant Captain of Detectives Cato, after questioning the men, said he believed several other hold-up men had been arrested. He said three of them have been identified as former convicts. They gave the names of V. T. Talkington, W. Burger, E. C. Olson, Fred C. Clark and J. W. Stanford.

Truitt, director of the National Child Guidance Clinic, will be the principal speaker at the quarterly luncheon of the case committee of the Council of Jewish Women Tuesday noon at the Alexandria. OWN-YOUR-OWN OFFICE IN HOLLYWOOD'S finest office building

15 years today

A single office in a building of this magnificent type would rent for a minimum of $75 a month. In 15 years this would total $13,500 — a neat fortune actually thrown away! You may sell, lease or hypothecate your Guaranty office. Your investment should eventually treble in value.

street, which will provide space for more than 500 cars.

Space on the main floor will be devoted to a large entrance and a spacious lobby. Other floors will contain dining-rooms, lounging-rooms, gymnasium, dressing-rooms and more than 25 rooms to be occupied by the members exclusively. Arrangements also have been made for setting back the property line ten feet on Figueroa street and one foot on Main.

At present the Jonathan Club is located in the Pacific Electric Building at Sixth and Main streets, where club quarters have been maintained for the past year.

Officers of the organization include Mr. Jeffries, president; J. W. Jump, first vice-president; James Lewis, treasurer; Mr. C. C. Rendler, secretary, and Frank P. Flint and Dr. Ray D. Robinson, directors.

Admits He's Nut for Tardiness in Income Tax Duty

A citizen of Taft failed to send in his remittance for the final installment of the 1923 taxes. In order to avoid penalties he sent to the United States Collector Goodwill the following letter:

T.A.T.F. Cal. Jan. 1, 1924.

"Dear Sir: Before leaving Taft and while I was out of town I mailed you $6. on my revenue. I returned to the post office and found your letter in my box with no address to whom to return it. I guess I forgot to address it.

"It is awful the way I do lose everything. Today I shaved and I don't know where I left my razor. I guess that is the way I did with your letter and the $6. I am sure is not, but I cannot help it. I will try over again. Hoping you will pardon me for my mishap. I have lots of trouble."

"Respectfully,

Collector Goodwill finds that the excuse is a reasonable one.

One thousand income-tax returns are being filed here daily. Ninety per cent of those filing are paying their taxes in full and the balance are filing non-taxable. The law provides heavy penalties for failing to file.

CITY RELINQUISHES INTEREST IN TRACK

COUNCIL TAKES STEP TO CLEAR WAY FOR ENTRANCE TO COLISEUM

The city government of Los Angeles yesterday officially relinquished all interest it had in the race track and grand-stand at Exposition Park, thus paving the way for the removal of these properties and the making available of the land for the building of the Coliseum. By the signing of an agreement adopted by the city council, the city divested itself of the responsibility of maintaining the track. With similar action by the county supervisors and the Sixth District Agricultural Association, the race track and grand-stand can be abandoned so as to make possible improvements for the Coliseum.

Horsemen who oppose the demolition of the track have sought an injunction to prevent the destruction of the track, and this action will be resisted by the city.

Quiz in Death of Guardsman Set for Today

A Coroner's inquest will be conducted tomorrow at 1:30 p.m. over the body of Stanley G. Woods, a private in the One Hundred and Sixtieth Infantry, California National Guard, who was accidentally shot to death Tuesday night at the Exposition Park Armory by Sergeant A. W. Vaughn.

According to information obtained, Dr. J. D. Connelly and Romero assigned to investigate the shooting. Woods was shot during a friendly scuffle in the locker room of the armory, and Vaughn's revolver was discharged, the bullet entering Woods' head and causing his death.

Woods resided at 381 North Townsend street. He is survived by his widow and one child.

A detailed description of the two bandits in the bank was given by the victims.

Plans to Beat Way Into Film Frolic on Bay

"Among those present was 'One-Eyed' Connally, an uninvited guest."

This has been the life story of the man who left Los Angeles yesterday for San Francisco where he will attempt to crash the gates of the Wampus Ball on the 19th inst.

Connally will be armed with a dress suit, $55 expense money, and all his knowledge of the plain and fancy methods of job crashing.

He thinks that his audience or father will either make or break him. "One of the men higher up at one of the film studios," Connally has stated to me, "has staked me to the dress suit and if I get in it probably will mean a big job in the pictures for me."

It doesn't take a Houdini to get through a closed door, he says.

He says he has crossed the Atlantic eight times, made the trip across the continent three times, and seen every championship wrestling in the last thirty-one years without paying a cent for transportation or admission.

"Businessman," Connally, "is a fine art. I'm an artist. No man in the world has been more places he wasn't wanted than I have."

If the San Francisco police and the horsemen present can't stop "One-Eyed" Connally out of the Wampus Ball he is willing to let him down and go to work, he says.

THE EARLY SHOPPER
Look over the advertising columns and you will be convinced that now is the time to do the Christmas shopping.

THE STUDENT
A youth of fifteen summers led his class in the examination at Harvard, but is too light to make the football team and probably will never amount to anything.

PERILS OF STILL LIFE
Another man was killed by the explosion of a still. Trying to keep still while making moonshine has become one of the great American hazards. The life-insurance companies will not provide indemnity if they can help themselves.

GOING TO BLAISES
On the coldest day of the season there were 215 fire alarms in the city of Chicago—which is thought to be a world's record. A lot of folks must have been lighting matches in the effort to keep warm. Or possibly there was an organized effort to thaw out the community. Anyhow, the firemen were going to blazes all day and far into the night.

GOOD START FOR IRISH
The Irish deficit amounts to $77,000,000 in the first year of national freedom, but this is still $10,000 less than had been expected, so the showing is relatively creditable. It is not a fresh national government that can start off with a $77,000,000 deficit. The Irish are far from being broke. The country can do business on an Irish bull market.

CUTTING MELLON
Congressmen are preparing substitutes for the tax-reduction measure provided by the Secretary of the Treasury. Even if they use all his material it would never do to have his name identified with the bill. The statesmen may debate the Mellon act—and they may pass it, but it will bear some other name. It may be a Mellon bill, but the ripened fruit will carry another title.

MEXICAN GAME LAWS

Under a new enactment of the Obregon government the shooting of deer,elope or mountain sheep in Mexico is absolutely forbidden for ten years. This is described as a great natural conservation measure. What Mexico needs is a law that would stop Mexicans from shooting one another for a dozen years or so. Then a real peace might be developed. The Mexican game laws should be extended to human beings and not in Mexico only.

CONVENTION WANTED

The treasurer of the Republican National Committee, who has always taken the big convention of his party to Chicago, was unable to cope with the influences at work on behalf of Cleveland this year, but is now devoting his blandishments to the task of bringing the Democratic gathering to his city. He is a chairman of a Chicago committee that expects to capture the great Bourbon rally. Chicago relies upon having at least one of the national conventions of the major parties and the landlords will go mad if they are deprived of both the Republican and Democratic gatherings this year.

THE CABINET-MAKERS

There seems to be a world dearth of competent and trusty cabinet-makers. With each new day some country reports a shortage of men capable of cabinet construction. There is also a definite lack of the right sort of material to make a serviceable cabinet. Germany could furnish trade for a flock of cabinet-makers and England is keeping a sacrifice of public rights. Theirs is the right of an injunction to restrain the City Council from thus bartering away the playgrounds of our children has been endorsed by the Realty Board, the Chamber of Commerce, the Municipal League and the Advertising Club.

BORBED HEADS

Efforts to stop the procession of bobbed-headed women are fruitless. Every now and then somebody drops a fashion hint from Paris that bobbed heads are no longer tolerated and the next day there is another rush for the barber shop. The ladies are going to be contrary. Now they say that all the girls of Paris are themselves in short hair. Matrons in their seventies are also using the scissors. There was never so much clipping of locks as there is at this moment. The women have found that the sheared head means not only a lot of careless comfort, but that the operation takes about ten years off of their ages—that is, so far as the looks are concerned. The average matron of 50 may readily offer herself as a perfect 36 when her locks are bobbed and curled. At the beauty parlors they say that dames beyond their eightieth milestone have passed under the scissors and been glad of it. It never was a crime for a woman to make herself as young as possible and if bobbed hair helps any in this direction let her go to it. She will, anyhow, for that matter.

"NO REPUDIATION, BUT—"
From the "French Bureau of Information" in New York circular has been mailed to the newspapers of the United States which, according to its authors, answers certain imputations periodically appearing in English and American newspapers about France's supposed intention of evading her war debt to America.

It quotes the following sentence from an address delivered by Premier Poincaré last November in the French Chamber of Deputies: "I must repeat once more that we do not intend to repudiate our debts."

This statement would carry more conviction if it had been an affirmative instead of a negative one. More to the point would it be if the French Premier had said, "We intend to pay our war debts to our allies."

To say that the French attitude in regard to her war debts has been to one of evasion is stating the case very moderately. Members of the French Chamber of Deputies, as well as leading articles in the French press, have asserted repeatedly that France is not indebted to the United States, but, on the other hand, she has counter-claims against us growing out of the war that wipe out our claim of about $4,000,000 and leave us indebted to her.

The tenor of these statements is that France entered the war some years before we became engaged and that any settlement of war claims must take these years when we spent nothing but made a profit into consideration.

France is setting up a counter-claim of "adjusted compensation." She does not recognize that we entered the war for the purpose of saving France from German conquest, that we entered the war when, in her own words, "she had been bled white" and must have outside help or succumb before the German attack.

The dominating party in France holds that we joined the forces opposed to Germany at the psychological moment when we could make profit out of the war at the least expense to ourselves. They hold that it was a very profitable venture, as is proved by the fact that we now have at least half the gold of the world in our possession.

For us to ask France to add $4,000,000 more to our already amassed wealth, when we are as prosperous and France so impoverished, is, from their point of view, preposterous. They argue that we gave our dollars and that they gave their blood; and they add, "We will give you back your dollars when Germany gives us back our gold."

France holds that claim for adjusted compensation is not repudiation. Such an argument appeals with equal effect to the English situation. The English entered the war, like the French, when it began and spent more money in the conflict than did the French. But the English and French points of view concerning the validity of a contract do not agree. England promised to pay, and is paying. France promised to pay, and not only is making no effort to pay, but is setting up counter-claims which, to us at least, seem wholly fictitious for the very evident purpose of avoiding payment.

If France had paid the millions of francs she sent to Poland for armament on her debt to the United States instead there would be no charge of evasion. France will not repudiate—but the difference between reparations and indemnities is theoretical only. In practice they achieve the same result.

KEEP THE SEASIDE OPEN!
What more delightful playground for old and young alike than the big open spaces along our Los Angeles waterfront, where thousands upon thousands seek pleasure and recreation from June to January and from January to June?

Such space for the fast-growing communities of Southern California is limited in extent. Its value to the public becomes every year more apparent—and also the necessity for preserving it everywhere from private encroachments.

The beach belongs to the public. Nor for the Sunday pleasure-seekers from Los Angeles is there any too much of it easily accessible. Perhaps there is no stretch of sea sand more sought after or more desirable than the wonderful beaches from Playa del Rey to Redondo. For the multitude that cannot go far afield for their summer outing the South Bay waterfront is a priceless possession.

The people of Los Angeles are fortunate in owing a part of this ocean frontage at Hyperion which for them and their children will afford an everlasting ocean playground—if they insist on holding on to it—they should do so.

But it may slip entirely from their control if they let it into the city-owned waterfront as proposed by the City Council. The Council is allowed to be concerned with the public playgrounds of the city, rather than the colored politician, Titus Alexander, for a period of fifteen years, who is an amusement resort for negroes, at the nominal rate of $100 for the first two years.

Fortunately this move by the Finance Committee will not pass unnoticed or unchallenged. The Playground Commission has taken immediate action to prevent so foolish a sacrifice of public rights. Theirs is the right of an injunction to restrain the City Council from thus bartering away the playgrounds of our children, has been endorsed by the Realty Board, the Chamber of Commerce, the Municipal League and the Advertising Club.

MORE TAXES, LESS MONEY

Secretary Mellon furnishes full and complete proof that excessive taxes on incomes of the rich do not produce as much money for the government as when a more moderate rate is levied. Capital gains will not be unduly penalized. If it is levied it would disappear from industry and turn up in some other form in which it may be taxed.

According to the records of the Treasury Department there were in 1916 some 1300 persons having taxable incomes in excess of $200,000 each. Then the heavy surtax on big incomes was applied. In 1918 the number of persons having incomes in the $300,000 class had shrunk to 627, and in 1921 it had further dropped to 246. In spite of the heavy surtax the government is receiving only about one-sixth of the revenue from the "photocraft" class that was collected when the tax was half as great.

It is shown beyond question that moderate or reduced taxes stimulate business, industry and investment and actually bring in more money to the public purse than when the screws are applied to wealth. It is established as an economic fact that the higher the government fixes its tax upon wealth the less will be the actual revenues. Under a fair and just burden capital will be active and adventurous. It will take its exercise in the open and the productive capacity of a nation will be stimulated.

When the government seeks to confiscate the big end of incomes then income begins to camouflage and hunt cover. If the taxes be modest there would be no need for a Constitutional amendment directed at tax-exempt securities. Capital would be taking other ventures and would be in the market for commercial and industrial risks that are now shunned. It is hard to drill this into the impregnable domes of the political demagogues, but the government has already demonstrated the fact.

THE PARIS FLOOD
To every lover of books who knows Paris the news of the flood there brings a sense of pain, a feeling that something dear to him may have been lost. For to every lover of books there are innumerable books which have real personalities, and nowhere else can there be so many of them as there are—or were—in the book market which for many generations has been both banks of the Seine. It has been the favorite browsing place of every American student in Paris, as it was of Voltaire and many another famous name of the old and new England, William Poe, of Goethe and Helmholtz and other great students in the University of Paris (from which came so much of the best of German literature) of Ben Franklin and an innumerable host of the great book-lovers of all lands.

The book stall along the southern bank of the Seine from the palace of the Louvre to the Jardin des Plantes, a distance of perhaps three kilometers, and also have overflowed the northern bank for about half that time. The market must be almost as old as the University of Paris, which had as many as 1700 students from all parts of Europe back in the days when all learning was in Latin, and so gave its name to the school. It is now a great school, goes merrily on. An awful lot of money is wasted through extravagant management, but nobody feels like stinting the schools at any point.

TAKING THE PLEDGE

Congressmen are challenging one another in duels with fountain pens and are shedding ink rather than blood. They are giving each other to sign the pledge. A representative from Georgia publicly affixed his signature to an agreement to forgo abstain from strong drink and defied his colleagues to do likewise. Thus far he has managed to restrain themselves from taking the pledge.

HOW IT STARTED
BY JEAN NEWTON

THE ENCYCLOPEDIA

The earliest encyclopedias, produced during the classical era, were designed not like those of to-day to give references, but rather as textbooks. They were designed for continuous reading and study, containing, in their early stages, the accumulation of learning made by their authors. They bore no resemblance to the modern compilation of specialized information that is our encyclopedias.

The first known of these works was by Socrates, in his "Phaedrus," written in 399 B.C. And the change from this ancient type to our modern form did not take place until the seventeenth century when the introduction of the alphabetical and key arrangement brought in the present form.

The name that stands out in the development of the modern encyclopedia is that of Ephraim Chambers (died in 1740), who by his great improvement on any form then known, became known as the father of the English encyclopedias.

RIPPLING RHYMES

TRANQUIL TOIL

When I begin my daily grind I have a calm, contented mind, I wish no holiday; I do not move with laggard step, I thank the gods I have the power to earn my pay. I make no moan, I raise no whine, if better jobs, more soft than mine, are offered by other jays; I do not envy pluckers, I herd my blue Angora cats through all the golden days. Unfortunate the man who sighs, who wipes wet tears from his eyes, when he beholds his work, who thinks he might evermore on downy couches bask. Unfortunate the man who scowls or frowns, when he sees his work, till he is sick at heart; he might evermore on downy couches bask.

The steel trust should have their hands full with the work of the day, the day is rough, and he may homeward go, I herd my cat on outdoor work, I guard them from the rabbits, hold that should their lives destroy; I'm doing something sane and wise, a fine reward for the quiet eventide I view my well-spent day with pride, I have not lived in vain; the memory of work endures, I gather up my savings, and jingle in my wain, I do not view my job with dread, I like to lay on daily bread that has been earned in sweat; vacations now and then are good, when it is always understood that work's the one best bet.

MUSIC AS MEDICINE

The use of music as medicine is as old as the days when the harpers played sooth-ing stuff to appease enraged harpers. Harmoniotherapy may yet come into full recognition along with the idea of curing goiter with high thinking.

The director of civic concerts in New York, who is often described as a musical evangelist, is even now telling Californians of the vast value of music as a curative of mental, moral, social and industrial ills. It has been found that music may be stimulative or soothing. During the war musical programs were furnished at numbers of the industries where large forces of men and women were at work. It was found that production under this musical stimulant was much greater than without it and the quality of the workmanship was also higher.

In the face of the evidence it would be unwise for the Armours to have a symphony orchestra at their stockyards. The steel trust should have their hands full with the work of the day, the day is rough, and he may homeward go, I herd my cat on outdoor work, I guard them from the rabbits, hold that should their lives destroy; I'm doing something sane and wise, a fine reward for the quiet eventide I view my well-spent day with pride, I have not lived in vain; the memory of work endures, I gather up my savings, and jingle in my wain, I do not view my job with dread, I like to lay on daily bread that has been earned in sweat; vacations now and then are good, when it is always understood that work's the one best bet.

It is quite a snarling letter. It reminds me that I have written complimentary stories about both Edna Purviance and Mabel Normand, and it asks me, caustically, "What do you think of these precious young women now?"

Well, sir, I still like them and I still think they are clever artists.

And I am truly sorry about this "regrettable incident" and I insist upon hoping that it is merely a regrettable incident for which a romantic chauffeur is solely to blame.

Other things being equal, the manufacturer with a quality record of which he is proud, is the one most likely to give you a dependable satisfactory product.

Careful selection of materials; favorably-located plants; improved machinery and methods; frequent purity tests; efficient transportation

For a Lifetime of Service

COMFORT never goes out of style, and the Sealy is built to give comfort not only when new, but for a lifetime of sleep. So when you get a mattress, be sure it is a Sealy Tuftless Mattress. Let us tell you why.

The Sealy is "air-woven." Millions of long staple cotton fibres fall inextricably intertwined to form a huge mass of softest cotton. Each fibre falls by gravity to rest in a natural position, so that after the whole "bat" is compressed and put into the ticking, its pressure is exerted evenly in every direction. There is no tendency to bunch. When you rest on it, the Sealy conforms with easy buoyancy to your body's weight and lines. When you get up, it returns to its original shape; because that is its natural shape.

That is why no tufts are necessary. That is why the Sealy lives a long, serviceable, comfort-giving life. That is why, for forty years, the army of Sealy users has been a constantly growing one.

When you know what Sealy users know—you too will want a Sealy. The Sealy Tuftless Mattress, $55 to $125. Other Sealy Mattresses, $25 to $50. The name "Sealy" is on the covering. Accept no other.

DILLED LOBSTER

For six portions select three small California lobsters that have been boiled and cooled. Split so as to have the shell in perfect halves and remove the meat from the tails and cut fine. Thoroughly clean the shells and lay aside until wanted. Place in a sauceman four tablespoons of butter and two fine, choiced onions. Add two cups of milk and two cups of onions are dry but not brown; add two tablespoons of flour and stir one minute; add two cups of milk, mix well and the cream lobster meat, one level teaspoon of paprika, a few grains of cayenne pepper, one teaspoon of Worcester sauce, two and a half cups of soaked and pressed bread crumbs; stir and boil five minutes; add the beaten yolks of four eggs, two teaspoons of lemon juice, two cups of milk and stir until the cleaned shells are moderate size, then add the texture of the shells. Cook and spread the mixture over the shells. Add a half cup of melted butter, a thin slice of lemon on the center of each piece and bake a nice brown in hot oven. Set out for lemon napkins and branches of parsley.

BAKED FRESH MACKEREL

Select six oven-ready mackerel, cut off the head, fins, slip the backbone under the backbone, beginning under the tail and lift out until off the tail. Put oil in a shallow pan and add one cup of melted butter, add two to two cups of onions, add the mackerel and lay aside in the milk. Then add the baking pan, mix well, cover the top with a double layer of bacon, dot with bits of butter, place a thin slice of lemon on the center of each piece and bake a nice brown in hot oven. Set out for lemon napkins and branches of parsley.

BANANA LAYER PIE

Send to a cream medium sugar; beat the cream and sugar until well beaten for one and one and two-thirds cup. Add one and two-thirds cup of flour, add two cups of milk, add a few grains of cayenne pepper, one teaspoon of Worcester sauce, two and a half cups of soaked and pressed bread crumbs; stir and boil five minutes; add the beaten yolks of four eggs, two teaspoons of lemon juice, two cups of milk and stir until the cleaned shells are moderate size, then add the texture of the shells. Cook and spread the mixture over the shells. Add a half cup of melted butter, a thin slice of lemon on the center of each piece and bake a nice brown in hot oven. Set out for lemon napkins and branches of parsley.

DUCK APPLE CAKE

Sift two cups of sifted flour with four level teaspoons of baking powder, one level teaspoon of cinnamon, half a teaspoon of nutmeg, add a double boiler and one cup of milk, add a few grains of cayenne pepper, the yolks of two eggs, the whites of two eggs and a cup of sugar and beat until well beaten. Cover the cake with a double layer of bacon, dot with bits of butter, place a thin slice of lemon on the center of each piece and bake a nice brown in hot oven. Set out for lemon napkins and branches of parsley.

INAUGURATION CEREMONIES

I wanted to be thoroughly triveling, rather than elegantly silly on January 2, so elegantly on January 1.

On New Year's Day I wrote two stodgy stories I didn't want to write, and washed and ironed all my white waists and darned nine pairs of family stockings, and answered a bunch of unlabeled letters, and cleaned up the house in the afternoon to bestow another $25 that had been sent me for a disabled soldier. And the evening I helped a high school boy to do some horrid holiday boy work.

Spoken like a perfectly clear conscience that I sallied forth early on New Year's Day.

plants; in the erection of new oil refineries; in the erection of new chemical and paper plants; textiles; motion pictures and other industries. The total amount spent, not less than $50,000,000, was authorized to be spent and is being spent in the upbuilding of our industries."

It is estimated that during the past year not less than $60,000 letters have been sent out to various groups of eastern manufacturers, urging their consideration.

Particular efforts have been directed toward the automobile group, the textile groups, the boot and shoe groups, and the metal groups.

Technical reports have been prepared on the glass industry, and the textile groups, while a complete report has been prepared and sent to the automobile field on the Pacific Coast and the twelve Western States.

"This report," says Mr. Arnold, "is complete down to the records of new car sales and registrations for a period of three years, and is a valuable addition to the commanding position which Los Angeles has in the sale and distribution of automobiles and trucks on the Pacific Coast."

While a final check-up will not be completed for some time, it is conservatively estimated that approximately 700 new manufacturing plants have been located in the metropolitan area of Los Angeles during the past year, bringing the total up to approximately $150.

The plants range in size from those employing 100 to 1000 people and representing an investment of several millions of dollars.

Some concrete examples of Los Angeles' industrial growth during the year follow:

The year 1923 saw the erection in Los Angeles of the biggest mill of the Wayne Knitting Mills of New Haven, Ind., the first unit of which plant represents an investment of approximately $500,000.

This is the first large hosiery manufacturing plant to be built on the Pacific Coast.

The worsted yarn manufacturer of Worth Brothers also was put into operation.

A plant is being erected at Los Angeles Harbor known as the Southern California Cordage Company, which will make a full line of cordage.

The Jenkins-Wright Company has purchased several acres of land in the Wirth Brothers' new plant and will erect there this site a modern plant for dyeing of worsted and other yarns and possibly later on for dyeing of cotton.

The Pioneer-Pacific Worsted Mills which are undertaking the construction of a new plant in the vicinity of the Wirth Brothers' new plant, will erect there this site a modern plant for dyeing of worsted and other yarns and possibly later on for dyeing of cotton.

The Jenkins-Wright Company has purchased several acres of land in the Wirth Brothers' new plant and will erect there this site a modern plant for dyeing of worsted and other yarns and possibly later on for dyeing of cotton.

The Ironall Factories of Cincinnati well-known manufacturers of overalls and work clothes, have acquired 100 acres of land and will erect a plant there.

During the past year there was formed the Pacific Knit Goods Manufacturers' Association, with headquarters in Los Angeles. With more than forty knit-goods manufacturing plants in the section, Los Angeles leads the Coast in this field.

Los Angeles occupies a unique position in the production of virtually every line of standard wearing apparel, according to Mr. Arnold.

He pointed in the shoe manufacturing industry. Included in this expansion is the Just Shoe Company at Alhambra, and the John Tilt Shoe Company, which was put into operation last year.

The John Tilt Shoe Company, three small-sized shoe manufacturing plants here with a combined output of 100,000 pairs.

The Column Steel Company of San Francisco and Llewellyn Iron Works of Los Angeles combined their rolling mills during the year.

The column mill now has a large blast furnace and by-product coke ovens in the vicinity of Salt Lake City, to supply the local market with lower costs than it has been laid down in this section from eastern sources.

A Los Angeles and San Francisco capitalist has taken over 200 acres of land in vicinity of Long Beach Harbor to develop a $6,000,000 big-iron furnace and product coke oven if the Santa Fe Railroad builds its proposed branch from Gallup, N. M., to the San Juan Basin of Colorado.

The Southern California Iron and Steel Company has announced a large expansion program coincident with the development of western pig.

The Bryon Jackson Iron Works has erected a new plant.

Another important development in the metal line was the new plant of the Stephens-Adamson Manufacturing Company with headquarters at Decatur, Ill. The company has been operating in this section for some time and finally selected Los Angeles as the Pacific Coast headquarters and manufacturing center. It has already secured acres of land and is erecting a large modern plant.

An amount of more than usual importance was the purchase by the General Fire Extinguisher Company or the Grinnell Company of the plant formerly occupied by the Southern California Iron and Steel Company at Fourth and Mateo streets. This nationally known concern will invest well over $1,000,000 in this plant for the manufacture of fire extinguishers.

Considerable expansion is reported for railroad shops, the Southern Pacific having put into operation a new locomotive shop at Los Angeles and a car repair shop at Los Angeles and Santa Fe both having developed shop facilities in this section.

The United States Steel Products Company, the United States Steel Corporation, is putting up a large warehouse at Santa Fe and Slauson avenues.

The United States Spring Company, the largest manufacturing company in operation here for ten years, has plans for development of plant and equipment to cost approximately $1,000,000.

It also has been announced that Ford interests are negotiating for considerable acreage of land in vicinity of Long Beach Harbor for a new plant.

The new plant, according to Ford officials, the largest automobile assembling and manufacturing plant devoted to a single make on the Pacific Coast.

The General Electric Company has purchased five acres of land on Santa Fe avenue in the vicinity of Fifty-fifth street, and is expected to undertake considerable operations in this plant.

The textile industry should be benefited during 1924 by pushing means to stamp out bovine tuberculosis, by the extension of the use of sterilized cotton and by the promotion of a Pacific Southwest textile Exposition.

MANY CONVENTIONS

Los Angeles will entertain approximately 1,000,000 persons as convention delegates and speakers to some attractions in 1924, according to Charles A. Cooke, manager of the convention department of the Chamber.

A report issued on activities of the department for 1923 indicates that 500,000 were here during that period.

Between 35,000 and 40,000 persons attended conventions in Los Angeles in 1923, and the city offers special attractions such as the annual rodeo and horse show from all parts of the West.

A large number of other conventions have been held in the city while a route to the harbor is being developed.

The report indicates that tonnage is being handled at the rate of 5,500,000 tons monthly through the harbor, which is the second largest in the world, according to data contained in the report of the port extension department of the Chamber for 1923. This report indicates that Los Angeles Harbor is the second port in deep-sea tonnage in the world.

Lombardi and Charles Picco of the erection of a height-limit loft and office building at 139 N. Broadway, directly across from the Sheriff's office and the Hall of Records. Space in the structure will be available to meet the requirements of attorneys and others who transact business in the Courthouse district.

M. Lombardi, owner of the property for many years, has engaged Architects Edward Gray Taylor and Eller Wing Taylor to prepare the plans for the new building with a frontage of forty-five feet on North Broadway and 150 feet deep. Estimates provided by the architects place the total cost of construction at $500,000.

OTHER PROJECTS

The Los Angeles office, it has been named, will contain stores on the ground floor with office and loft space on the upper floors equipped with the latest conveniences. Other buildings planned near the civic center include the height-limit office and bank building for the corner of Main and Commercial and a large office building for the southwest corner of Temple and Broadway and a height-limit office building near South Figueroa. Leasing will be handled by the Murray-Gerber Company, realty brokers.

E. W. Murphy has leased to Mrs. E. A. Holmes of Pasadena property at 135 South Figueroa street for a long term. The plan is the plan of Mrs. Holmes to improve the site with a four-story hotel to cost approximately $250,000, which will include the lease and the cost of construction. The project will represent an outlay of $700,000. Negotiations in the deal were handled by T. D. Bradford of the H. E. Dominy & Co. realty firm.

Embryo Airmen Blamed for Theft of Sky Machine

The mystery of the lost airplane, which Tuesday engaged the attention of the police, was solved in the back yard of Ralph D. Hardacre's home at 4637 West Seventh street yesterday. The plane had been parked there by a number of young embryo flying aces. They had found it at Wilshire Boulevard and Hinton street Tuesday, apparently abandoned, and had succeeded in shoving and hauling it into Mr. Hardacre's back yard. The plane is the property of Calon Silliman of 122 Winston street. Tuesday, its pilot, Roland Ellis, flew down to the intersection, where the boys found it, to buy some repair parts. TWO PICTURES IN NEW YORK BATTLE

Local theatrical men are watching with keen interest an unusual battle of giants going on in New York at the present time. The struggle is between "The Ten Commandments" and "The Covered Wagon," two photoplay productions which are "the last of the day" at Grauman's Hollywood Egyptian Theater, where the former screen classic is now running. Both pictures were produced by Paramount.

"The Ten Commandments" is now showing at the Cohan Theater while "The Covered Wagon" is at the Loew's Egyptian in New York for some time. Both films are attracting capacity business and although it was anticipated by many that the showing of the pictures simultaneously in the same city would be harmful to the success of one of the engagements, this has not proven to be a fact.

Although "The Covered Wagon" in its seven months engagement at Grauman's Hollywood Egyptian, Theaters were forced to give up a duration record for Los Angeles at that time, it is now pre-empted by showmen that "Cecil B. DeMille's "The Ten Commandments" will shatter all previous records before it makes way for another feature production.

FOR a water heater to stand up under continuous service for any long period of time, it must be built to withstand severe and decided strain. Especially is this true of the automatic type, with constant turning on and off of pressure, high flames one moment, pilot light only the next.

RUUD heaters have demonstrated their ability to supply hot water consistently over a long period of years. That is why it always pays to consider RUUD hot-water service when you want dependable hot-water service. The past performance shows what to expect in the future.

LEGHORNS IN LEAD IN EGG RACE

Rhode Island Red Pens Close Second; Contest Center of Interest

Excitement in the egg-laying contest which is being conducted in connection with the Los Angeles poultry show at Washington Boulevard and Vermont avenue is increasing as the contest progresses.

The first day the White Leghorns of George C. England, Rhode Island Reds of William P. Williams laid 100 per cent. By six o'clock last night the five highest layers were within half an hour of each other, were running as follows:

George C. England, White Leghorns, eleven eggs; Mrs. L. T. McLean, Rhode Island Reds, nine eggs; John C. Roberts, Rhode Island Reds, nine eggs; William P. Williams, Rhode Island Reds, eight eggs; and C. Andred, White Leghorns, seven eggs.

These layers are from the best laying blood of Southern California. The confusion of being moved had its effect upon them, but it is evident that they are winning.

According to the police report, Miss Allen, accompanied by a girl friend recently came to Los Angeles from Philadelphia. She and her companion are said to have made the transcontinental trip on foot.

Miss Allen attempted to end her life following a quarrel with John C. Roberts, whom she had met since coming to California.

All motion-picture theaters in Ohio have been notified of the ban and have been instructed to refuse to exhibit Mabel Normand productions. Edna Purviance also was made a party to the Ohio ban, the State board ruling that exhibition of her motion-picture productions will not be permitted in Ohio.

The Ohio State Board has not yet placed an official ban on Miss Normand's pictures, a recommendation that such action be taken immediately was placed before the members of the Massachusetts branch of the Motion-Picture Theater Owners of America.

An Associated Press dispatch from Detroit said that after a temporary ban on all films featuring Miss Normand was decided upon yesterday by the board of directors of the Motion Picture Theater Owners of Michigan, no action was taken regarding the showing of Edna Purviance pictures.

While the action of the Michigan directors is not compulsory, it was pointed out that the 450 motion-picture theater owners usually abide by the decisions of the board.

OFFICERS FACE CHARGES

Officials Hold Policemen, One of Them Accused of Attack on Woman

A conference was held late yesterday between officials of the District Attorney's office and detectives taken in the case of Patrolman D. A. Bell, who is accused of a criminal assault on Mrs. Betty Marino, 22 years of age. The evidence obtained by the detectives investigating the prosecutor's office, it was stated.

Bell has been stripped of his badge and uniform and is held at the City Jail. Patrolman C. V. Hoover, who is said to have participated in the party during which the accused attack took place, has also been suspended.

TO LOSE POSITIONS
Second Deputy City Jackson declared late yesterday that no matter what action is taken or not taken against the accused officers, they will not be reinstated.

The two officers were suspended from the service after Mrs. Marino and Miss Elaine Slickles, 18 years of age, had informed police officials they were molested to the dignities by the two men. The women stated that the two officers had come to their home at 121 North Broadway avenue on New Year's morning and had driven

Bell was appointed to the force on January 11, 1923 and Hoover on March 1, 1922.

Detective Lieutenant Carr and Conduff, investigating the case, stated that Mrs. Marino's complaint was not reinstated.

Attorney T. F. Calhoun has been retained to defend Bell. He stated yesterday that unless a formal complaint was filed against his client he will swear up a writ of habeas corpus to force his release.

Bell was appointed to the force on January 11, 1923 and Hoover on March 1, 1922.

SEEKS WRIT IN TEST OF BLUE LAWS

Habeas Corpus Action is Instituted to Hasten Case of Native Daughters

One of Los Angeles' so-called blue laws was taken into Superior Court yesterday by Miss Marvel Thomas, first vice-president of the Native Daughters of the Golden West, when she filed an application for a writ of habeas corpus, through Attorney Ernest O. Ogle, seeking her release from custody of Chief of Police Vollmer on a charge of violating ordinance No. 45,065.

Miss Thomas was arrested Tuesday for having, on the night previous, called and conducted a meeting of the Native Daughters with 100 members present from the Board of Police Commissioners.

The arrest was planned in order to test the legality of the ordinance.

Miss Thomas was taken before Pres. J. C. Powers, who, after refusing to take the case seriously, allowed her bail of $1. She furnished the amount and was released on $175. She was held.

Yesterday, however, an order to obtain an immediate and final opinion on the legality of the ordinance was filed with the court, setting forth ten reasons why the ordinance is illegal and asking that she be released from custody. Her hearing will be before the court of Superior Court at 9:30 o'clock on the morning of the 19th inst.

Test of the ordinance under which Miss Thomas was arrested is planned, however, to serve solely as precedent for scores of other laws enacted by the City Council.

City Prosecutor Jack Clegg has given his opinion to the court that if ordinance No. 45,065 is held illegal, other ordinances of a similar nature probably will be taken to Superior Court in an effort to have them wiped off the statute books.

Sweet Estates
Go to Sisters

Mrs. Carrie Sweet, sister of M. A. Hamburger, is named the sole legatee of Otto Sweet, her husband, in the latter's will, filed for probate in Superior Court yesterday. But as Mrs. Sweet died in New York on December 9, 1922, the estate, valued at about $100,000, will go to the nearest of her brothers.

Four brothers and sisters are the legal heirs of the husband, and the heirs of Mrs. Sweet are her own brothers and sisters and their children, named as beneficiaries in her will, died last month.

Keyes was informed yesterday by wire from Dist.-Atty. Stanley Myers at Portland. Mr. Myers wired that Harmon had pleaded guilty in Portland to forgery and had been sentenced.

Those who have used it ask:
"What makes it clear away a rash so quickly?"

Physicians say: "Because Resinol sinks deep into the pores and starts the skin again acting normally."

Stubborn rashes, eczema and skin disorders—itching, unpleasant, embarrassing! For years this simple treatment has been successfully on irritations that in many cases nothing else seemed able to relieve.

In a few days often they would vanish—the itching stop, the clear, clean texture of the skin be restored.

Thousands of users have wondered at the quickness of its action. Yet physicians who prescribe it say there is no mystery. Deep down under the surface, where many salves and remedies fail to reach, are the tiny cells and nerves that cause the trouble. These Resinol reaches. Even a light application sinks deep into the pores, attacks the root of the disorder, and starts the skin again acting normally.

At first distributed only through doctors' prescriptions, Resinol has today become in thousands of homes the first remedy applied to any sort of skin affection.

If you have today any spot, rash or eruption on your skin, apply Resinol. Spread a coating on the affected surface and smooth it very gently with the fingers. One application will, in many cases, stop the itching completely. Resinol is entirely harmless. It will not irritate the delicate texture of an infant's skin, or even raw exposed flesh. Get a jar at your druggist or send for a free trial sample to Dept. 3, Resinol, Baltimore, Md.

EFFORT TO FREE PRISONER FAILS

Porterville Man Must Pay Fine or Serve Time

Justice Court's Sentence Upheld at Hearing

Three Liquor Charges Basis of Conviction

PORTERVILLE, Jan. 9.—Efforts of counsel to free W. A. Garrison of this city from a 1560-day sentence in the Tulare County Jail at Visalia failed when Judge Allen dismissed a writ of habeas corpus brought before him in Superior Court by J. C. Thomas, Visalia attorney, and ordered Garrison back to jail to complete the sentence. Garrison was sentenced to 500 days on each of three liquor charges on which he entered pleas of guilty before Justice of the Peace Clark at Visalia.

Counsel argued that the Justice Court has no power to impose a jail sentence in such a case. Dep. Dist. Atty. J. McCormick argued, however, that the sentence was a fine of $1500, or imprisonment one day for each dollar of the fine not paid. Garrison has not paid the fine.

ROUTE EXTENDED

TERRA BELLA, Jan. 9.—On Wednesday the 16th inst. the cultural route out of Terra Bella will be increased six miles. This order from the department of Washington to the state highway commission made some time ago after an inspection of the proposed route last night by C. E. Brodgen. A second recommendation was later made increasing the route by six more miles.

It is expected that this recommendation will be acted upon before many weeks.

Tomorrow Postmaster Stephen and Mail Carrier McFie will go over the extension, visiting every family to be served and locating the necessary mail boxes.

MERCHANT AIDS TO MEET

TULARE, Jan. 9.—Secretaries of the Merchants' Association of the Joaquin Valley will conduct their next regular meeting in Tulare on the 11th last. This organization was recently launched at a session in Fresno and the local meeting is being held with the former members here. Dale A. Frane, secretary of the Orange Cove Merchants' Association, was named president of the valley organization. A. J. Harter of Porterville is vice-president, while H. P. Morgan of Reedley is secretary-treasurer. A. N. Linn of Hanford and E. N. Baker of Merced, with the above-named officers, form the board of directors.

FAIR PLANS SHELVED

VISALIA, Jan. 9.—Owing to the general market and crop conditions, which are not altogether conducive to enthusiasm, it was decided to postpone the annual fair to complete success of a venture which cost about $15,000, it has been virtually decided not to conduct the annual Joaquin Valley Fair, scheduled for April or May, in this city. J. Sub Johnson, president and general manager of the fair committee of the Visalia Chamber of Commerce, declared that conditions over the country might impinge, but in view of the fact that plans had to be made so early in the season, it was the general opinion that grave loss of the country affected would not well come such a fair at this season.

Loses Eyesight, Husband's Love; Obtains Decree

When Mrs. Catherine Murphy, formerly a janitress in a school building at San Pedro, began to lose her sight, she also lost the love of her husband, George, to whom she had been married for thirty years, she told Judge Summersfield yesterday.

"I worked hard during those thirty years," she said, "and he loved me, and I loved him. We raised and educated our two daughters, and saved and scraped, and bought our little home. Then went blind. I was losing my husband's love. I had him watched, and detectives told me that he was playing attention to a Mrs. La Rue."

When she learned this, she said, she left the home to him and went to live with a married daughter. She gained her decree.

Associations to Seek Expansion of Prager Park

Petitions are being prepared for circulation to include on the ballot at the next election the acquisition for park purposes of the western portion of Prager Park, now used for circuses and carnivals, according to an announcement yesterday by five southwest improvement associations which are backing the proposal.

They include the Broadway-to-the-Sea Association, and the Improvement Association of Hill street, Grand avenue, Washington street and Olive street.

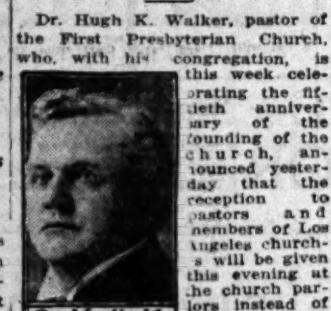

JAIL ENLARGEMENT PLAN TO BE STUDIED

The City Council's Finance committee at its meeting next Monday afternoon will consider methods of financing improvements necessary to relieve overcrowded jail conditions, as recommended by the county grand jury to the Board of Public Works. The board recommended that in addition to the jail annex now nearing completion at Lincoln Heights, a stockade be built there for day-time use by prisoners.

COUNCIL IS INVITED

The City Council yesterday accepted an invitation from National Park Service officials to attend the unveiling, on February 12, of a monument at Carthay Center of J. Strong Smith, "Pathfinder of the Sierras."
